

Wheat growers suits seek 2 million, allege fraud at feedlot

Two civil suits, alleging a conspiracy to defraud and seeking more than $2 million in damages, have been filed in 181st District Court here in another round of court action centering on the business failure of Happy Wheat Growers Feedyard in south Randall County.

The suits are filed by Happy Wheat Growers Inc., against several Wichita Falls men, a former manager of the feedyard and a Wichita Falls corporation.

A third suit filed in the court last week lists Happy Wheat Growers, Inc. as defendant and seeks $50,000 in damages. Plaintiff is Joseph M. Ayad of Amarillo, doing business as J. A. Cattle Co.

One suit filed seeks $1.5 million in damages from Flynn W. Stewart, Roland Stewart, James Stewart and the Bowie Service Corporation, with Flynn Stewart as president, all of Wichita Falls; Wayne Bedwell of Canyon, former manager of the feedyard; and Jerry Hayes, of Spearman.

The other, which seeks about $450,000, is filed against Bedwell by the Happy Wheat Growers Inc.

The million-dollar suit filed by the wheat growers alleges the six defendants "maliciously and with the intent to injure the plaintiff conspired together to injure the plaintiff by converting funds owned and held by the plaintiff in its bank accounts.

"In furtherance of such conspiracy, the defendants, Wayne Bedwell and Jerry Hayes caused checks to be drawn on the bank accounts of the plaintiff payable to the defendants Flynn W. Stewart, Roland Stewart and James Stewart in their own names and in their various trade names . . . In furtherance of such conspiracy, defendants Wayne Bedwell and Jerry Hayes concealed by incorrect and misleading accounting entries in the books of plaintiff the true nature of (several) checks."

The suit alleges the defendant Stewarts contracted with the feedlot to feed a number of cattle and also signed six promissory notes for various costs. The suit says the defendants made several checks to pay some of the promissory notes, but that banks refused to pay on the checks.

It further alleges Bedwell and Hayes falsified accounting entries on the books of Happy Wheat Growers Feedyard.

Bedwell and Hayes also "made false records of cattle lost by death causing plaintiff to be required to pay for cattle it in fact did

Classrooms to be jammed locally; enrollment expected to hit 3200

Canyon school classrooms will be jam-packed this week when a record number of school children enroll and then begin classes for the fall term.

Officials are predicting as many as 3250 students will be peak enrollment for the fall term, although that many students may not enroll Monday and Tuesday during regular registration.

If the 3250 figure proves accurate, the four local schools will have about 150 more students than they did last fall.

School officials admit an influx of students from families which have only recently moved to the Canyon School District has pushed school enrollments to the bulging point.

Members of the high school building trades class began work last spring on construction of two new portable classrooms for use in the school system.

Supt. Jerry Jacobs said the classrooms will be available in early October and current plans are for the portable facilities to be moved to the Gene Howe Elementary School campus in South Amarillo. Two portable classrooms are already being utilized at that campus.

School board members have for nearly a year worried over the crowded schools situation in Canyon and have contracted with an Amarillo architectural firm to begin work on plans for possible construction of a new elementary school and a combination high school-middle school.

Actually, Jacobs said, officials had anticipated a larger enrollment than is currently predicted. But, he said, building of new homes in the district has slowed and the anticipated number of new families has not materialized.

Jacobs said the architect has completed tentative plans for a new elementary school — which board members have indicated will be constructed either in Hunsley Hills or in South Amarillo. The plans have been turned over to elementary school personnel for review and comment and will be returned to the architect for further work.

The architect is also still collecting information and ideas for plans for the combination high school-middle school, which will be constructed on a several-acre tract of land purchased by the school district more than a year ago just south of Amarillo's city limits.

Meanwhile, Jacobs said while each of the district's four school campuses are encountering space problems this fall "I think we can handle them."

Registration for the city's schools begins Monday and continues Tuesday. Classes begin Wednesday.

Registration at Gene Howe and Rex Reeves schools, including kindergarten through sixth grade, is scheduled Monday. Students with last names beginning with the letters A-K are to report to the schools between 8:30 a.m. and 11:30 a.m. Those students with last names which begin with L-Z are to report between 1 p.m. and 3:30 p.m.

Seventh grade students at Canyon Junior High School are to register from 8:30 a.m. to noon. Eighth grade students will register from 1:30 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. Ninth grade students will register on Tuesday from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m.

High school seniors register Monday with students with last names which begin with A-K registering from 8:30 a.m. to noon.

All other seniors will register from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. Juniors are to register from 8:30 a.m. to noon and sophomores will register from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

Teachers in the school system began in-service training last week.

Kindergarten for all five-year-olds will be offered at both Gene Howe and Rex Reeves on a half-day basis. Parents will be notified of kindergarten assignments as soon as registration is completed.

Cafeteria meal tickets may be purchased at the time of registration. (See CLASSES, Page 5)

Hobby pessimistic in predicting revision efforts will be revived

Several state senators and representatives will make various attempts at pushing through the Texas Legislature next spring either parts or the whole of the defunct constitutional revision effort which failed to receive delegate approval in July, but Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby is pessimistic about the results.

Hobby, on a whirlwind handshaking tour of Canyon and the West Texas State University campus Thursday, said it will be more difficult to gain House and Senate approval for measures which failed to pass constitutional convention muster.

The lieutenant governor, campaigning in preparation for the November election in which he will face Republican candidate Gaylord Marshall on the ballot, said one legislator has already vowed to introduce the entire document produced in final form by the constitutional convention for legislative approval as a constitutional amendment when that body convenes in early January.

Several other legislators have vowed to introduce for passage as constitutional amendments several portions of the final revision effort.

"I support them strongly, but I'm frankly pessimistic," Hobby said. "It will be harder to get a two-thirds vote of each house separately than it was to get the approval of the 181 delegates sitting in the convention."

But, Hobby said, there is another avenue to get into the hands of the people of Texas a revised constitution for their perusal and approval or rejection.

"I had lunch the other day with (former Chief Justice) Calvert on the possibility of the Constitutional Revision Commission having some impact," Hobby said. "I think he thinks they can."

"My guess is that some time before the first of the year, he'll try to get them together for another meeting."

The Constitutional Revision Commission was a group of citizens who met for about nine months prior to the start of the constitutional convention in Austin and hashed out their own revision proposal, which was later used by convention delegates as the basis for their own revision effort.

The failure of the constitution to be passed by the delegates last month will probably have little impact on the fall elections for those legislators who are up for re-election, Hobby predicted.

"Only five to 10 of them have significant opposition," he said.

Of his own campaign to be re-elected, a campaign already marred by the mid-summer arrest of Hobby for driving while

Budget for local schools won't await state funds

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby may think it's good business to plan school budgets in anticipation of a promised special funding appropriations bill passage in January, but Supt. Jerry Jacobs says he won't follow his advice.

Hobby, in a News interview Thursday, suggested school boards go ahead and produce budgets based on the anticipation that a special appropriations bill to provide more money for school systems will be passed just after the legislature convenes in January in Austin. Hobby said the appropriations bill will probably call for an increase in state support of about $35 per student.

"We're not banking on that," Jacobs said. Canyon School board members are currently in the throes of preparing a 1974-75 budget which has a built-in 10 cent tax increase for local residents. Income has been figured with a tax rate of $1.85 rather than the former rate of $1.75.

"There's no way we can conscientiously include that (possible state funding increase)," Jacobs said. "That's January and our school year's half over."

Nevertheless, Jacobs is hopeful the legislators will pass a special appropriation for school financing.

"It may be a way to stay level for another year," he said.

School board members will look microscopically at their coming year's budget during their regular meeting Tuesday night.

For their past two meetings, board members have seen general outlines of the budget figures, which indicate a large deficit if taxes are not hiked.

Jacobs and School Business Manager Ron Woods have noted that prices for almost all products used by the schools have gone up drastically in the past year.

In addition, the legislature mandated a raise of more than 10 per cent for school teachers effective this fall.

Jacobs said the budget will be the primary item of discussion when board members meet. They are scheduled to meet at 8:30 p.m.

Traffic plan works well on highway

A new traffic control system introduced on 23rd Street almost a year ago by Canyon policemen has produced results far above the expectations of local officials.

Traffic accidents in the city have decreased nearly 30 per cent over the same period a year ago and the decrease is largely attributed to the new traffic lanes painted on the major Canyon thoroughfare.

Canyon Police Chief Al Stewart said the new traffic plan "has definitely worked" and he feels it has solved the problems once faced by motorists on the highway.

About a year ago the striping on the highway was changed to eliminate parking along much of the length of the street and to add another center lane to be used for left turns only.

The new center lanes allow

Our World

Hope For Laws

By ANN BROWN

The powerful manipulators in Washington have selected another President. This time, however, they omitted the formality of allowing us to vote on him.

Was Gerald Ford chosen because of his reputation for honesty?

Did his role as a God-fearing family man so typical of middle America tip the scales in his favor?

Was he favored because he was handsome, charming, and congenial?

Or was Ford appointed because the manipulators were convinced he was a puppet who would dance when they pulled the strings?

Whatever the reasons for his selection, Congress, the people, and the press have acclaimed the new President. (The Nixon family and their dark valley is forgotten).

How long will the "honeymoon" last?

Anyone who watched the proceeding on Aug. 9 could scarcely have missed the transition that took place when Gerald Ford moved from the impotent position of Vice President to the powerful one of President.

There was steel in his eyes as he calmly declared he was "obligated to no man."

When the new Vice President is chosen, we will know whether we have a man or mouse in the White House.

One does not need the gift of prophecy to predict that if Nelson Rockefeller or one of his political ilk wins the place, our nation will continue on the collision course set by Roosevelt's New Deal, and accelerated by Johnson's Great Society.

If Ford gets a conservative statesman, the manipulators will probably begin a frantic search for another Watergate.

In the discussions on Aug. 9, one of the legal experts asserted that a free people are not only privileged to dissent but obligated to do so.

The Press is frequently criticized for constantly presenting the negative side of the news.

Detour signs are negative, and American motorists usually gripe when they encounter them.

Would we prefer the signs were removed so we could plummet into a washout or a highway excavation?

Should the news media confine itself to pleasant stories about blue skies and sunshine? Or do we want to know when a hurricane is moving toward our coast, a tornado is bearing down on the plains, or a known killer is loose in our midst?

Our new President said, "truth is the glue that holds a nation together."

Jesus expressed the same philosophy when He said, "You shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free."

The President declared, "Ours is a government of law — not men."

Perhaps born of the sufferings generated by The Depression, our nation has become increasingly concerned for men, and the law has been ignored.

The foulest murder may have been committed, but the jury is persuaded to have mercy on the murderer, and forget the law.

Embezzlers, confidence men, and rapists ruin millions of lives, while the laws to control such activities are ignored.

Our society, a product of law, shows sympathetic concern only for the misfits, perverts, chronic criminals, drug addicts, unemployed drifters, and under-achievers.

The truth, and respect for law, would put us back in touch with reality.

Julian Bond scorned Nixon for not doing more for the "people who look to the government to take care of them." He expressed the hope Ford would do better.

Expecting the government to take care of us is like expecting a blood transfusion from a leech.

Every able-bodied American has the God-given opportunity to take care of himself.

Numerous times before he became President, Gerald Ford spoke out for workfare instead of welfare, and pay-as-we-go government.

On Palm Sunday the crowds hailed Jesus as king; before the week was out, the same crowd yelled, "crucify him."

Nixon was elected President by the 3rd largest majority in history. Now the cry has changed from "Hail to the Chief" to "Jail to the Chief."

Do we have a President or a puppet? We shall see — when the honeymoon is over. And we had all better pray we have a President.

Future Of Man —
What Of Tomorrow?

By CARROLL WILSON

There has emerged in the last three decades another all-American urge — the urge to be frantic.

Hand-wringing is the handmaiden of emotionalism which has gripped America since the opening of World War II.

A habit of 30 years making it hard to kick, a habit nurtured first in war and now by television. A syringe-full of violence propels the rush of emotionalism to the American addict.

We're users.

And we love it.

To be frantic in modern America is to be impassive, glued to television, lips moving with expletives, adrenalin flowing to limpid heart, hands clenched in fists.

The American voyeur has been frantic over Korea, over Vietnam, over his kids, rioting in the streets, over the President and corruption.

The marijuana high produced by violent sport is no longer enough. Better highs can be had through arm-chair war, emasculation of a President.

Man today thinks without acting, acts without thinking. The two are dissociated, unlinked.

"Thought and reflection have been rendered thoroughly pointless by the circumstances in which modern man lives and acts. He does not need to think in order to act; his action is determined by the techniques he uses and by the sociological conditions. He acts without really wanting to, without ever reflecting on the meaning of or reason for his actions," one author writes.

Reality no longer demands of man that he coordinate thought and action. Through the mechanization of work, the manipulation of computer, man no longer must think before he acts. An automaton, he puts in his eight hours.

At home, the media spoon feeds him the ingredients of society, a society to which he belongs only as the peeping-tom belongs to the darkness.

An action-craver, man must become frantic. If he cannot act to make himself feel useful, he must voyeuristically live the lives of the quarterback, the television cop, the silver-screen lawyer.

But, the surrogate lives must be exciting. They must be worth living, must contrast with the numbing quality of thoughtless, actionless inaction.

They must induce the frantic high, to lift man from his easy chair and carry him to fairy-tale lands where the common man affects his environment, has the ability to change his circumstances.

In the world of the easy chair, though, man cannot even act psychologically. He can only react. Not the master of the plot, the quarterback of the game, the general of the battlefield, he must react to situations.

But, again, his reactions may only be in his mind.

He must cherish the violence portrayed in sport and media, an opportunity for control of his situation, for action to fulfill the need to feel useful and needed. He must have his daily high.

A high must go higher, and violence in sport and media must be bloodier.

Today's violence is tomorrow's Sesame Street.

Sports entrepreneurs, for example, note lackluster fan support and are now coming up with new and more violent sports, sports such as box lacrosse — the meanest game on earth."

Tomorrow — the Christians and the lions?

Or, more frightening, the ultimate high — nuclear war.

Two Arrested
In Drug Raid

A Canyon man and one from Amarillo were arrested about 2 a.m. Friday by officers at a mobile home in South Amarillo and subsequently charged with possession of more than four ounces of marijuana.

Randall Hicks, 21, of 1104 3rd Ave., and Rodney Parker, 18, of 4600 W. 38th in Amarillo were arrested by Canyon policemen, Randall County deputies and members of the Metro Intelligence Unit.

Justice of the Peace W. A. "Bill" Wilson set bond at $2000 each.

Dist. Atty. George Dowlen said officers found several baggies of a substance believed to be marijuana and a small amount of a substance believed to be cocaine in the mobile home.

News Brief

The name of Ron Williams, who plays the role of Flip in "TEXAS," was inadvertently omitted from a listing of performers who have been awarded scholarships through the "Texas Originals" production last weekend. Williams, a student at West Texas State University, is understudy for the part of Tuck Yeldell in the musical-drama which plays nightly except Sundays in Palo Duro Canyon.

During in-service training for the local teachers, l. to r., Jerry Yows, new director of Special Services for Canyon Independent School District, Dr. Corrine Cass, an expert in the field of Special Services, and Jerry Jacobs, superintendent of CISD schools, discuss Dr. Cass's speech to a general faculty meeting Thursday. Dr. Cass spoke of the work of Special Services as it related to the curriculum.

Arizona Teacher Speaks
During In-Service Training

Dr. Corrine Cass spoke to members of the faculty and administration of Canyon Independent School District Thursday during in-service training.

Dr. Cass, an expert in the field of reading and learning disabilities, spoke to members of the Special Services staff Thursday morning and afternoon. At 3 p.m. Thursday, she addressed a general staff meeting at Canyon Junior High School.

In an interview with The News, Dr. Cass stated that there are five basic identifying characteristics of a child needing the services of LLD. She said that the most discriminate characteristics are a writing deficit, being able to correct ones errors, reading comprehension deficit, auditory-visual coordination deficit and visualization deficit. She stated that if a child has all of these characteristics and falls in the lowest 16 percent of the class population, then the child would probably qualify for LLD. Dr. Cass has reached these conclusions based on the results of the work done by her and doctoral students who have studied under her at the University of Arizona.

Dr. Cass addressed members of Special Services on the implication for remediation of the above named symptoms to enable the child to achieve normally.

Characteristics of personnel qualified to deal with children in Special Services were also discussed. She stated that two things, testing skills and remediation skills, are necessary characteristics of one who will be working with the children. Testing skills are the ability to identify and diagnose learning deficiencies. Remediation skills are the abilities of the teacher to do something about the problems found during the testing.

Characteristics of the teachers aide are different. Dr. Cass stated that the teachers aide should be more concerned with "don't" than "do." She said the teachers aide should not try to instruct the student without proper supervision from a qualified teacher.

When speaking to the entire faculty, Dr. Cass drew implications from work in disability for the school curriculum.

Dr. Cass has been working in the learning and reading disability field for 12 years. Six years have been spent with the University of Arizona where she and doctoral students work directly with schools in the area of special services. She was the first person set up with funds to train teachers to work in the LLD field.

Members of the CISD faculty became familiar with Dr. Cass when she spoke in Austin five years ago as the Special Services program began in the state of Texas. This was her first time in Canyon.

Vet Helper
On Campus
At WTSU

Area military veterans now have a counselor for their needs, Beverly J. Stalnaker, the Veterans Administration's "girl-on-campus" for West Texas State University. The VA's new program is designed to provide personalized service to veterans receiving educational assistance benefits under the GI Bill.

Under the new program announced in May by the VA, each college in the nation will have a Vet-Rep either on campus or have access to a traveling Vet-Rep from a nearby college on a regular schedule. She will advise not only 700 WTSU veterans, but any veteran in the area needing assistance.

Miss Stalnaker, who joined the VA in 1974, was one of 1,327 Vet-Reps hired or assigned from within the VA for the positions. Priority was given to Vietnam Era veterans who have experienced campus life.

She received orientation at the VA regional office, and returned July 20 from an intensive two-week course conducted at West Georgia College in Carrollton, Georgia, for Vet-Reps from the 13 southeastern states.

The Vet-Reps will be prepared to resolve individual payment inquiries. She is expected to eliminate many payment delays caused by changes of address, dependency status or a change in school courses. She will also be on hand to assure that proper certification is made by both student and the school.

The Vet-Rep will serve as liaison for all campus veteran groups and brief them on benefit matters, and consult with college officials and faculty on VA matters.

House Fire Causes Damage

Fire gutted a small house early Wednesday afternoon here while the occupant was grocery shopping.

Damage to the inside of the home at 1517-A 9th Ave. was estimated at about 100 percent by officials.

Lt. Tom Rolan of the Canyon Police Department discovered the fire about 1:27 p.m. Wednesday.

day as he patrolled. He was unable, after repeated attempts, to make his way throughout the house to check for possible occupants.

Canyon firemen spent about 25 minutes bringing the blaze under control.

The house was occupied by Howard and Patricia Helm and is owned by Jack Taylor.

'Leatherneck' To Be Shown Today At Museum

The Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum will wind up its successful, fun-filled Sunday afternoon series with a whirl and a bang.

Today will be the last call for silent film buffs and Hopalong Cassidy fans when the feature will be "The Leathernecks," starring William Boyd. The final silent film of the Museum series was produced by movie mogul Cecil B. DeMille. Also starring with Boyd is Allen Hale, Sr., noted actor and father of Allen Hale, Jr., the captain in the television show "Gilligan's Island."

Presentation times are 2:30 p.m. and 4:30 p.m. in the Museum Annex basement. Admission is free.

On August 25, both young and old visitors will be able to relive the past, just a little, when they will be served piping hot popcorn from the Museum's 59-year-old popcorn wagon. The popcorn will be free.

The bright red-and-white wagon will be moved from display in the Museum Annex out onto the lawn on the West Texas State University campus. The two Museum buildings are located on the southern edge of WTSU on Fourth Avenue. Popping time is scheduled to begin at approximately 2:30 p.m.

The Sunday afternoon series, emphasizing silent films, has been such a success that plans are being made to continue the treats on special occasions. Attendance has been rising steadily throughout the summer, as the crowds come to see such immortals as Tom Mix, William S. Hart, Charlie Chaplin, Laurel and Hardy, and William Boyd (more popularly known as Hopalong Cassidy.) The idea was originated by the new Museum Director James Austin Hanson.

Vaccines Eyed By University Researcher

Research to increase the potency of vaccines is presently underway at West Texas State University.

The investigator, Dr. Alfred Schram, WTSU professor of chemistry, says that he hopes to eventually "work with a vaccination that will help this area," such as one that prevents cattle disease.

A vaccination contains a modified version of the disease it is to prevent. Once introduced into an organism, it stimulates the production of the body's natural combatants, antibodies, which will specifically destroy the infective disease. These antibodies remain in the blood stream, making the organism immune to infection by the real disease.

"Only a relatively small portion of the overall vaccination causes the immune properties for the formation of antibodies," Schram notes. "By modifying by chemical means the portion that is close to that area we can change the effects quite drastically."

He also says that "After a vaccination there are differences in the circulatory systems. I am trying to relate those with the exact chemical structure of the vaccination, then modify it slightly and see what changes take place."

Schram is using "model systems" of vaccinations since their exact chemical structure is known. Much of the synthesis of the vaccinations he does himself in the laboratory. His work is done on "mostly chickens and several other birds, because they build up resistance very easily."

At present, Schram is "in the process of trying to increase the sensitivity of the test" he uses to study the effects of his work. He is "tagging the chemical substances we made with radioactive isotopes because it is much easier to detect them through small amounts of radiation than by chemical means."

Belgian-born Schram came to West Texas State in 1965 from Southwestern Medical School in Dallas. He received his Bachelor of Science degree from Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute and his Master of Arts and Doctorate of Philosophy degrees from the University of Texas at Austin. Schram also spent one year at the University of Minnesota doing post-doctorate work.

Schram's present work is funded through a $20,000 grant from the Robert A. Welch Foundation in Houston.

News Of Canyon's Church Life

Geary Reckling was recently in El Paso to inspect mission needs to be met by the Amarillo and El Paso Association jointly. He will speak at the Calvary Baptist Church in Canyon next Sunday evening, Aug. 25, giving a report on the mission needs of that area.

Rev. Terry White, pastor of the First Christian Church of Canyon, will be the instructor for a course in the Basics in Biblical Theology to be offered beginning Sept. 5 in the east room adjacent Fellowship Hall at the First Christian Church. The course will be open to all interested community residents as well as deacons, deaconesses, elders and church school teachers. Enrollments are being taken at the church office, 655-3512.

Quilt making and repair on bibs for residents of the LaCasa Canyon Nursing Home were done by members of the mission action group of the Women's Missionary Union of the Calvary Baptist Church at their meeting last week.

Ground breaking for the First United Methodist Church additions and new building project will be a part of the morning worship services at the church today, Aug. 18.

Rev. and Mrs. Bill Elder, missionaries to Japan, were special guests Aug. 11-13 at the First United Methodist Church of Canyon. ## NEWS BRIEF

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Aldridge of San Antonio visited overnight in Canyon Thursday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Curt Samples. Mr. Samples then accompanied his daughter and son-in-law to Greenville where he will have several days to visit with his brother, Vernon.

George Stevens looks at letters and packages that cannot be delivered because of insufficient address, no return address or faulty packaging. The post office here received little of such mail and they try to deliver all mail when possible.

Dead Letters And Faulty Packages Small Problem

If an address is lost from a package or the package is broken open whether it be the fault of the sender or the postal department, the post office will attempt to correct the problem according to George Stevens, assistant postmaster in Canyon.

Stevens said that the public could assist the post office by including a return address or a forwarding address on the inside of the package. Though the local post office does not have a department devoted to the repair of packages or the proper distribution of letters that wind up in the dead letter box, the centralized mark up clerk does handle the problem. Those letters or packages that cannot be forwarded or returned are sent to the dead letter office in Dallas.

Stevens said that Canyon, though it is still a small town compared to some, has outgrown the stage of the postman knowing everyone in town. Stevens said that the department was still attempting to deliver all mail that comes to the Canyon office but with the growth of Canyon and the number of apartments here this is becoming a problem. He feels one of the major reasons that there is so much difficulty with mail service is that the public is generally uneducated in the work of the postal system.

Rings, keys or bracelets sent in letters can also be a hazard. Stevens stated that with the modern postal equipment that speeds a letter to its destination cannot cope with such articles in letters.

Mail sent from Canyon has been found running 95 per cent of commitments made by the local service according to tests run by the postal service.

Stevens said that if the postal patron has any question, he may ask a postal employee.

at the high school. Board members will also discuss the possibility of opening a school bus route for children inside the Canyon city limits.

It's a proposal Jacobs would rather see handled by private enterprise.

He said many children of parents who work in Amarillo or who must leave for work early before school might be available in the city for a route handled either by the school district or by private parties.

The school system would not receive state funding for a route inside the city, but might operate the route as a service.

"We may consider doing it but I'd a whole lot rather see private enterprise get into it if it's gone into," he said.

Inflation...

Curbs? "It doesn't worry me at all. It's useless to worry because there's nothing I can do about it."

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Partridge of 1306 6th Avenue received word recently of the August 6th death of his sister, Mrs. Nancy Ella Hill of Corpus Christi. Mrs. Hill is survived by three sons and three daughters.

Plan...

cars to move out of the regular four lanes of traffic to attempt left turns.

Stewart said the new lanes have reduced the number of accidents on the highway, formerly a scene of numerous crashes, and has also speeded up the flow of traffic through the city.

Stewart said total accidents in the city are down about 28 per cent, and attributed much of that reduction to a reduction in the number of accidents on 23rd Street.

"We still have accidents on (23rd) but they're of a different nature," he said. "They're no longer caused by the highway itself."

Stewart said before the new left-turn lanes were painted on the street, the majority of accidents on 23rd resulted from persons trying to make left turns from regular traffic lanes. Many were rear-end collisions and some were of the head-on variety.

Now, he said, many accidents involve persons trying to pull onto the highway and failing to yield the right-of-way to oncoming traffic.

Because the traffic situation has eased on the highway, local patrolmen are able to spend less of their time working accidents on the street. Now they can devote more time to patrolling other major thoroughfares, Stewart said.

Only one problem has been encountered in the new striping plan, the chief said. That is the stripes themselves. During hot summer months, the yellow stripes are often covered by material which oozes from hot asphalt.

Already this summer, the Texas Highway Department has had to restripe the street twice and Stewart expects another striping will be needed before the regular West Texas State University term begins in September.

"The decrease in accidents is far more valuable than a little bit of extra paint," Stewart says.

not lose except by death," the suit alleges.

A second suit filed seeks about $450,000 from Bedwell.

The Happy Wheat Growers, the suit alleges, at several times during 1973 and 1974 sold and delivered to Bedwell cattle feed and medical supplies. The unpaid balance of the account is $423,795, the suit says.

"Although many demands and requests for payment have been made, defendant fails and refuses to pay the balance due," the suit says.

The third suit, filed by Ayad against Happy Wheat Growers, alleges the plaintiff placed more than 600 cattle in the Happy feedlot to be fed.

But, says the suit, the defendants allowed 12 head of cattle to "either be misappropriated, become confused with cattle owned by other people, or become in some way missing from plaintiff's pens."

In addition, the suit alleges, the defendants made medical overcharges of about $6000. The defendants also made improper and excessive charges for hay in the amount of $2,700.

Other losses reported in the suit involve loss of feed, loss of weight due to the movement of the cattle from the Happy pens when the feedlot closed down in late April, and charges for moving grain from the Happy Wheat Growers elevators to other elevators.

The feedyard was forced to close in late April when several area banks called in their notes. All cattle were removed from the lot in early May.

Classes...

tration and fees for various classes and activities should also be paid at registration.

High school fees include $2 for student activity; $6 per year or $2 per quarter for woods; $6 per year or $2 per quarter for plastics; $6 per year or $2 per quarter for typing I; $2.50 per quarter for typing II; $2 per quarter for shorthand; $4 per quarter for business machines; $6 per year or $2 per quarter for V.O.E.; $5 per year for physics; $4 per year for drafting; $3 per year for Chemistry I and II; $3 per year for Biology I; $1.50 per year or $2 per quarter for art; $3 per year or $1 per quarter for drama; $3 per year or $1 per quarter for journalism; and $2.50 per quarter for vocabulary.

intoxicated, the incumbent officeholder said he hopes the impact of that incident will be negligible.

"That's for the voters to say," he said. "I hope the people will judge me on my record as a whole. That's one of which I'm very proud."

Hobby backed Gov. Dolph Briscoe in the governor's refusal to call a special session this fall to consider emergency action for school districts facing financial worries.

The governor will submit proposals for supplemental appropriations for school districts in the state during the first week of the legislative session in January, Hobby said.

"A supplemental appropriations bill could be kicked out in two weeks," he said.

The supplement will amount to about $100 million or an average increase of about $35 per school pupil in the state for distribution to financially ailing school districts, which depend for more than half their operating funds on state monies.

"I think (school) boards can probably set their budgets on the assumption that we'll have additional appropriations," he said.

Nevertheless, Hobby said, the allocation of additional appropriations does not solve the basic problems in school financing for the state, problems stemming from basic inequalities in school tax structures.

He said the Legislative Property Tax Committee, which for two years has been visiting various parts of the state for hearings and meetings with taxing officials, will have a "substantial package" of proposals in January for changes in the state's tax structure.

Some of the proposals will center on the problem of forcing the various taxing authorities to assess properties on the same basis.

Hobby said it is realistic to believe the state can go another two years without an increase in taxes for residents, but that a biennium without a tax increase will "require some hard decisions."

The current state budget will have a surplus of about $300 million, he said, and growth in the state is expected to add an additional billion dollars over the next two years.

But, at the same time, costs are skyrocketing for all services the state provides.

"State costs are going to go up," he said. "I hope we can get by another two years, but it will take some hard decisions."

NEW SEVENTH GRADE STUDENT Staci Lyles prepares for registration Monday with a feeling of apprehension about "changing classes" and plans to look up her new classrooms during registration time as Canyon Junior High School joins all schools of the district for a return to "readin', writin' and 'rithmetic."

County To Eye Federal Grant, Amarillo Annex

Randall County commissioners will discuss the possibility Monday of obtaining a federal grant which might pay salaries for new employees to be hired for a four-year reappraisal effort.

Commissioners meet at 1 p.m. in commissioners courtroom on the second floor of the new courthouse.

They will also hear a report from Art Vaughan, Amarillo architect, on the feasibility of constructing a $300,000 South Amarillo courthouse annex.

Vaughan has spent more than a month reviewing bids opened in July for construction of the building. The bids came in around the $650,000 mark, well above the $300,000 allocated for the construction by commissioners.

The O. C. Frees were recently in Pagosa Springs, Colorado.

Sidney Wayne Key of Goodland, Texas visited overnight Tuesday with his cousin, Marvin D. Long, in Canyon, before meeting his two young sons at the airport in Amarillo.

Other business on the agenda includes discussion of new equipment for several courthouse offices and a discussion of insurance for the county.

News Briefs

The plaster cast from Mrs. Clyde McDonald's left arm is expected to be removed on Tuesday, August 20. Mrs. McDonald has been wearing the cast for six weeks following a fall at home which broke her arm just above the left wrist.

The transition from elementary studies to junior high level are cause for a "little worry" on the part of many new seventh grade students who will be starting out at Canyon Junior High School this fall.

"At Rex Reeves we changed as a class — all going together — but now we'll be responsible for changing classes on our own," related Staci Lyles, one of the new seventh grade students.

Staci is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lyles of 410 Taylor Lane in Canyon. She is 12 years old and looking forward to Oct. 22 when she will reach the golden teenage years.

"I plan to find all my new classrooms when I go up to register Monday," said the blonde lass. This is the first year for Staci and her other seventh grade classmates to have elective courses and from her listed electives last spring Staci has enrolled to take a course in art, reading, and speech in addition to her required subjects.

"I want to find out which one I like best this first year," said Staci noting that she has been selected to the symphonic band at CJHS after playing sixth grade band last year. "But we'll be the youngest and least experienced and the eighth and ninth graders will be better with their instruments," stated Staci.

During her school years Staci has taken private lessons in a number of extracurricular skills and plans to continue taking piano lessons privately this fall for the fifth year. She also hopes to take private organ lessons in seventh grade and this past year took gymnastics, ballet and jazz dancing privately.

Staci, who hopes to ultimately become a snow ski instructor, has signed up to take athletics which will include basketball and track. Students are given the option of taking athletics or physical education classes. The PE classes include a number of varying sports including gymnastics, tumbling, etc.

"It sounds like a lot of fun changing classes," said Staci. "This year we'll be going to different classes with friends we have made in other grades at elementary school."

With school registration Monday, Staci and her other incoming seventh grade classmates are already beginning to make the transition by buying new clothes in the styles befitting their age.

Although a newcomer to Canyon Junior High School as a student, Staci has visited the school over the years with her mother, Nadine, who is a Texas history teacher there. Staci's father works with the General Adjustment Bureau in Amarillo and she has two older brothers, including Randy who will be a junior at West Texas State University this fall and Ricky who graduated from Canyon High School this past spring.

Aged Pamphlet Shows Struggles Between Presidents, Congress

Tucked away in the archives of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum in Canyon is a 140-year-old pamphlet that shows the bitter struggle between the U.S. President and Congress over his powers and staff communications are not uncommon in American history. Only the results differ.

"Protest of the President of the United States Against the Recent Unconstitutional Proceedings of the Senate of the United States" was read in the Senate by Andrew Jackson on April 17, 1834.

It was a bitter complaint by Jackson against a resolution passed by the Senate in March 28 of that year that read: "Resolved, That the President, in the late Executive proceedings in relation to the public revenue, has assumed upon himself authority and power not conferred by the constitution and laws, but in derogation of both." The resolution was passed by a simple majority of 26 of the 46 senators present.

And in Jackson's own words, "The resolution, then, was in substance an impeachment of the President; and in its passage, amounts to a declaration by a majority of the Senate, that he is guilty of an impeachable offense."

The squabble was over Jackson's dismissal of Secretary of the Treasury William J. Duane, Sept. 23, 1833, when he refused to remove the federal money from the Bank of the United States. Jackson believed the Bank, run by Nicholas Biddle, was guilty of flagrant inefficiencies and attempts to control elections, which he made quite clear to his cabinet in an address. Three out of the five cabinet members, however, had opposed the President in the transferral of the funds.

The Senate issued a call on Dec. 11 for a copy of the paper Jackson read to his cabinet. Jackson refused the request, declaring that "The executive is a co-ordinate and independent branch of the Government equally with the Senate, and I have yet to learn under what constitutional authority that branch of the Legislature has a right to require of me an account of any communication, either verbally or in writing, made to the head of Departments acting as a Cabinet Council."

This sparked the more explicit Senate resolution of Dec. 26 chastising the President for "dismissing the late Secretary of the Treasury, because he did not, contrary to his own sense of duty, remove the money of the U.S. States..." which did not pass until the watered down version of April 17. Jackson based much of his argument in his protest to the resolution on the separation of powers between the three branches of government, also taking a careful, and indeed correct, note that the citing of his guilt did not follow constitutional proceedings.

He maintained that the resolution "assumes that a single branch of the Legislative Department may, for the purposes of a public censure, and without any view to legislation or impeachment, take up, consider, and decide upon the official acts of the Executive."

And he also pointed out that four of the senators voting for the April 17 resolution had state legislatures which had passed resolutions favoring removal of the funds from the bank.

On May 7, the Senate rejected Jackson's power to question its authority and declined to enter the President's protest and message in the official records of its proceedings.

Yet the Bank of the United States charter was dropped, Jackson finished his term unimpeached, without releasing documents to Congress, but not before an assassination attempt. Jackson supporters successfully campaigned to have the censure expunged from the Senate journal on Jan. 16, 1837.

And the country, suffering under rampant inflation, began the Panic of 1837.

Admissions Advisor To Leave WTSU

John Eder, 31-year-old admissions advisor for West Texas State University, will resign effective Sept. 1 to assume a position with Southland Life Insurance Company in Amarillo.

Citing a need "to continue my personal achievement and development," Eder also noted that "it would give me more time at home."

Eder has been with West Texas State since 1972, providing a variety of services for potential WTSU students throughout the Panhandle and nearby states. As admissions advisor, he spent extensive time on the road visiting many high schools to explain scholarships, financial aids, admissions requirements, housing, academic counseling and other information about the University.

"I appreciate the excellent job that he has done for us," said Keith Winter, WTSU director of development. "He is a fine example of a WTSU graduate, one whose invaluable work for the school should be evident this fall in the freshman enrollment."

"I will continue to promote WT in every way possible," Eder said. He predicts that West Texas

State "will grow with the area. People will come here to escape the metroplex atmosphere. They will find that the large, impersonal-type education is not what is best."

A graduate of Corpus Christi Carroll High School, Eder attended Texas A&M University and transferred to West Texas State, where he received a Bachelor of Business Administration degree in 1968. He was also a distinguished military graduate.

He was a member of Alpha Kappa Psi, national professional business fraternity; Lambda Chi Alpha, social fraternity; and Scabbard and Blade, Army ROTC honor society.

Eder, son of J. W. Eder and Mrs. W. P. Minnich, both of Corpus Christi, is married to the former Vicki Daniel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Daniel of 405 Taylor Lane, Canyon. They have a 2-year-old daughter Melissa.

"He will be missed by the students, faculty and administration of West Texas State University," Winter said.

Bufs Prepare For Thursday Workout

Almost all articles in magazines and newspapers that contain interviews with football coaches state that the attitude for the coming year will be better but according to Gene Mayfield, head coach for the WTSU Buffaloes, the attitude of this year's team remains to be seen. Buff coaches expect 90 to 100 players to show for the first practice session.

The first hints of the attitude will be divulged Thursday, Aug. 22 when the Buffs begin practice for the coming season. Mayfield stated that spring drills were not a good measuring stick of the attitude that will develop prior to the first game of the season. Mayfield's Buffaloes will begin preparation for their Sept. 14 trip to Des Moines, Iowa to tackle the Drake Bulldogs.

Mayfield believes that attitude is not something to be talked about during the summer but is to be shown on the field in the fall.

"Our defense will be considerably better," according to Mayfield. Mayfield thinks that football should be approached from the defensive standpoint. He stated that most fans look at football as an offensive game. He feels that defense was the problem for last year's team. He said that the defensive team spent too much time on the field last year trying to unsuccessfully get the ball from the opposing team.

A staff change may make the difference. Leon Fuller will be in his first year as a coach for the Buffs. He will be the defensive coordinator and coach the line-backers. Fuller came out of private business in San Diego, Calif. to aid the Buff defensive strategy. Fuller has gained the confidence of fellow coaches and especially those aiding him with the defensive unit, Jerry Behrens and Ronnie Mankin.

Fuller, who played halfback at Nederland High School, Nederland, Tex., at Tyler Junior College and at the University of Alabama, has coached defense at Oklahoma State University, University of Kentucky and at the University of New Mexico.

Mayfield stated that there will be more depth in the defensive unit this year but it will remain a problem. He said that spring drills showed much personal improvement in the defensive team.

The kicking team for this year will be much stronger. Those who will share kicking chores have established themselves in the Missouri Valley. Mayfield said that this year, for the first time, kickers will workout every day under the supervision of a member of the coaching staff. Kickers usually work on their kicking game only two or three days each week.

Offense for the Buffaloes will be better this year because of the number of returning starters, according to Mayfield. Mayfield stated that Tracy Dixon has improved both during and following last year. Allen Mullins, who did not play last year, will be returning for the season this year.

Mayfield said that WT will not have a powerful back nor a game breaker this year. He feels that they do have several backs who are average or good.

The kicking game will be very important for the number one rated Canyon Eagles as they enter district competition. Here, under the supervision of a member of the coaching staff, an Eagle gets off a spiraling kick during Friday's morning workout. Workouts continue this week as the Eagles ready for scrimmage matches prior to the September 6 game against Lubbock Monterey.

Mark Jackson is looking better all the time according to Mills. Jackson is a defensive end and plays some at offensive tackle.

Visiting

Mitchell Newkirk and wife, the former Debbie Miller, have been visiting for the past few days in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Miller, in Canyon.

A Few Bruises And Scouts Visit Eagle Practice

With the usual bruises and slightly pulled muscles, the Canyon High School Eagles finished their first day of workouts with pads Friday. The Friday pad workout followed four days of non-contact two-day workouts.

The Eagles will be going against Denver City in a controlled scrimmage game in Morton Friday, August 23 at 6:30 p.m.

The Eagles are playing Denver City in Morton this year because of a scheduled game against a Lubbock team. The Eagles usually play Denver City in Lubbock, a mid-way point between the two cities.

On August 30, the Eagles will travel to Friona for a scrimmage game there at 6:30 p.m.

The first chance for Eagle fans to see the home team in action here will be Sept. 6, at 7:30 p.m. when they meet the Lubbock Monterey Plainsmen here.

Presently there are 84 signed up to play with the Eagles. Coach Mills expects only four or five more sophomores to come out for the team by the beginning of the school year. Monday is the last day for upper classmen to come out unless they have already signed up.

Scouts from Baylor, Texas Tech and the University of Texas have visited Eagle practices.

According to head coach Ron Mills, the Eagles looked good during the week and have had the right attitude. Mills said that the boys think they can win and that is important. He stated that so far the boys have worked hard.

Several battles are beginning to brew at several positions for the Eagles. Mills said that his job was much better when there was competition for the various positions. He stated that depth are seeking starting roles. Allen Shankle is after both a defensive secondary slot and the quarterback role. Gary LaGrone has the quarterback slot presently because of his experience from last year.

Dave Wetzel has jumped in the strong side tackle position and taken over according to Mills. Wetzel is only 175 pounds.

Mark Jackson is looking better all the time according to Mills. Jackson is a defensive end and plays some at offensive tackle.

Mitchell Newkirk and wife, the former Debbie Miller, have been visiting for the past few days in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Miller, in Canyon.

Workouts in pads began for the Canyon Eagles Friday. The players here are working on offense and defense for the coming season. The Eagles will scrimmage Denver City in Morton Friday, August 23.

Mark Jackson is looking better all the time according to Mills. Jackson is a defensive end and plays some at offensive tackle.

News Brief

Collier, who went both ways

Dennis Collier

for the Eagles last year in football, was also a punter for the Eagle team. He averaged around 40 yards per punt last year. He kicked a 60 yard punt in the Greenbelt Bowl game.

Collier Signs With Panhandle State College

Dennis Collier, tight end for the 1973 Eagles of Canyon High School, has been offered a football scholarship at Panhandle State College in Goodwell, Okla. Collier was offered the scholarship because of his outstanding play in the East-West Greenbelt Bowl played Aug. 10 in Childress.

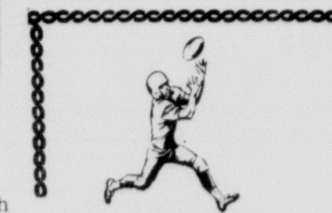

Collier was a tight end on offense in the game. He caught four passes, three of which were for extra points. He gained only one yard on the other reception. According to Ron Mills, head football coach at CHS, Collier played the entire game on offense and played one third of the game on defense.

Collier stated that he will report to the four year school Monday. He has been offered a partial scholarship.

Collier played for the Eagle varsity for two years. He has played football for Canyon since junior high school. Collier played basketball and tennis for CHS also. He was a member of the varsity last year and was third in tennis doubles in district

Sideline Views

By JIM ROGERS

While talking with Buffalo head coach Gene Mayfield, he said that it was frustrating at times trying to recruit players from this area. He said that WT is the smallest state supported school in Texas trying to play number one football. With the size of the school, comes the problem of finances for scholarships.

Another problem as has been noted in the past is the number of prestige schools located around WT. As a boy growing up in Texas, one is confronted with the Southwest Conference and the prestige involved with the football programs of Southwest Conference schools. With Oklahoma University and Oklahoma State vying for football domination there, out of state competition is high.

Mayfield feels that the only salvation is the new rule in effect now — scholarships limited to 30 per school in football. He said that it used to be very difficult when boys were offered scholarships from schools that recognized there was only an outside chance of the boy ever playing at the school.

It is hoped that people in this area will encourage youngsters to play where they will have a chance to make the team and not worry so much about the prestige involved.

It is interesting and a feather in the cap of the coaching staff at Canyon High School when one notes the number of former students who are or already have received scholarships to play some type of sport at colleges. This shows the personal interest on the part of local coaches. They are not only concerned about today's team but also tomorrow's athletic chances for students.

When the WT Buffaloes take the field this season, two members of the squad will have been born in Canyon. Of course there is Mike Podzemny who lettered three years for the Canyon Eagles, was named all-district two years and all-state his senior year. Though Podzemny did not take part in spring drills because of an injury, he should see quite a bit of action this year.

The other Buff born in Canyon is Jim Bob Brown. Brown, a freshman letterman who plays defensive tackle, was born in Canyon November 30, 1954. He was all-district two years for Stratford High School. He played on both offense and defense for Stratford.

Along with several other interested Canyon residents, this writer took time out the other day to watch the Canyon Eagles work out. He liked what he saw. The boys seem to be in good shape and ready for the coming year. Coach Ron Mills said that the boys think they can win. Attitude is very important in the game of football. Attitude depends on many variables though. If the public is sold on the team they will have a better chance of keeping a high attitude.

One of the best ways for local residents to show support is to become involved in the booster club. The club will begin meeting soon. They will meet on Monday evenings and review films from the past Friday's game.

Another way to help the attitude of the players is to not get down on them if they lose to some of the 4-A schools they will be playing in pre-district competition. Though the Eagles will be competitive, it may be tough going when they tackle top rated 4-A schools. But it would not surprise this writer to find the Eagles on top at the end of several pre-district games.

For those interested in predictions, this writer, claiming no psychic powers, predicts that the WT Buffaloes will finish the Missouri Valley Conference race in football better than other knowledgeable writers have stated previously. This is in no way to be said a prediction of the Buffs capturing the MVC crown. They will just not be in the cellar at the end of the season. Third place maybe.

News Brief

City To Consider

Upping Attorney Fee

Canyon city commissioners will consider increasing the monthly retainer fee for City Attorney Elton Cox at their regular 7 p.m. Monday meeting at the community center.

They will also consider further payments of the fee for architectural services performed by HD&R, a Dallas architectural and engineering firm which has designed a new city hall for Canyon.

Bids are to be opened for two new police cars, and commissioners are expected to choose the exterior brick for the new city hall during the session.

Files and equipment that will be used in the new Vocational building at Canyon High School are being moved this week into the new building. The building will be ready for use at the first of the school year. Dr. Ken Hart, director of the local vocational program, is shown here supervising the move.

Teachers Moving Into New Vocational Building

Instructors in the Vocational Education Program at Canyon High School are busily moving into their new vocational building. The building should be ready for use by the first day of school.

Teachers in the program are presently moving files and equipment into the new building. Though furniture has not yet arrived, it is expected prior to the beginning of school.

Teachers will continue moving equipment during this week between sessions of the in-service training which began Wednesday.

The new vocational building will house the office of the director of the vocational program, Dr. Ken Hart, offices for all teachers in the vocational program plus a classroom and workroom facilities for vocational agriculture, building trades, distributive education, auto mechanics, vocational office education and vocational home economics training.

According to Dr. Hart, if we fail to prepare students for vocational training it will not be the fault of the facilities which house the classes.

All the teachers are excited about moving into the new facilities.

Most women need athletic shoes more than most athletes.

Why does an athlete have a special shoe in the first place? Support, fit, feel, durability. And why does a woman need that same support, fit, feel and durability in her everyday shoe? Because a woman spends more time on her feet than the average athlete. Going farther, going harder, going longer.

That's why she needs P.F.'s by Converse. They have the exclusive Posture Foundation® wedge and arch cushion that makes them an athletic shoe, with the looks of a great casual shoe. And they're comfortable enough that you'll never want to take them off.

P.F. is the athletic shoe for the serious feat of being a woman.

Billy Jones, organist, presented appropriate processional and recessional selections and the special Annie's Song was presented by Jack Swindell and Dorothy Nelson with vocal presentation accompanied by guitar music.

The chapel's main aisle was decorated with greenery and yellow ribbons on each pew. Candelabrum accented with yellow ribbons highlighted the altar area.

Mr. and Mrs. M.L. Swindell of 5101 Matador Trail, Amarillo, are parents of the bride. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L.D. Hunnicutt, 2707 4th Avenue, Canyon.

Her dress, and those worn by the bridesmaids, featured yellow print with orange and green highlights. The attendants wore hats and carried white baskets with yellow daisies and ribbons in each.

Millan of Dallas. Ushering were Bob Bryant and Andy Swindell, both of Amarillo.

Fellowship Hall was the setting for the wedding reception where the table was decorated in yellow with a candlelight tablecloth and large wedding cake featuring wedding bells. Serving the cake and punch were Wendy Hunnicutt, sister of the bridegroom, and Melissa Owens of Amarillo.

As the newlywed couple departed on a wedding trip to Denver, Colo., and the surrounding mountain area, the bride was wearing a yellow crepe stitch dress with baby blue embroidery trim.

After August 21 the couple will make their home at 2410 10th Street, Modernaire Apartments #27 in Lubbock, Tex.

Little Chapel In Woods Setting For Ceremonies

Paula Diane Hubbard of Dallas became the wife of Gary Robert Moore of Canyon during an afternoon ceremony at Little Chapel in the Woods at Texas Woman's University in Denton on August 17, 1974.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hubbard of Pensacola, Fla., and the groom is son of Dr. Dudley Moore of Canyon and Mrs. Doris Moore of Louisville, Ky.

The Rev. Bill Kent, pastor of the Canyon First United Methodist Church, officiated the double-ring ceremony.

Mrs. Ann Dawdy of Canyon provided wedding music and Weston Moore, uncle of the groom, sang This Is My Beloved and The Wedding Prayer.

Decorations in the chapel included a large open Bible on the altar with a single red rose across the open pages. The Bible was surrounded by greenery and candles. Candelabra with greenery banks were behind the altar on each side. A spring flower bouquet decorated each side of the aisle at the chancel rail.

Mrs. Gretchen Webb of College Station, was matron of honor, wearing a mint-green evening-length gown with high necked collar, long ruffled sleeves, lace covered midriff and lace covered buttons on the bodice. She carried a nosegay of spring flowers.

Richard Thompson, brother of the groom, was best man. Robert Hubbard, brother of the bride, was an usher as was Bill Moore, brother of the groom. The groom and best man were in full dress military uniform.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an evening length white gown of bonnie satin and eyelet lace with high necked collar, long full sheer sleeves, and lace covered midriff. The gown featured lace-covered buttons on the bodice, pleated ruffling at the neck, wrists and skirt bottom. The raised headpiece was covered with bonnie satin and eyelet lace with cathedral length veil of bridal illusion. The bride carried a nosegay bouquet of spring flowers and a white Bible, a gift from the groom.

A reception followed the ceremony at Hubbard Hall of TWU. The bride's cake was topped by fresh spring flowers and other decorations included two large candelabra arrangements of spring flowers on the bride's table.

A wedding trip followed to Hot Springs, Ark., with the bride traveling in an A-line skirt with white bodice, white, green and navy blue plaid and a matching spring green jacket.

After Aug. 24, the couple will be at home at College Station.
